Manager's Investment Report

Investment Objective and Policy

The investment objective of the Trust is to track the performance of the FTSE Actuaries UK Index Linked Gilt All Stock Index (the Index) (after adjustment for management charge and taxation).

The Manager will seek to achieve this objective by investing primarily in Government or other public securities issued by the Government of the United Kingdom. The Manager may also invest in other assets, including Government or public securities issued by other public bodies (including those outside the United Kingdom), and may make use of optimisation techniques in order to construct and maintain a portfolio, the underlying value of which exhibits the total return performance characteristics of the Index. The Manager may invest in other Collective Investment Schemes, including those managed by companies in the Legal & General Group.

Manager's Investment Report

During the period under review, the bid price of the Trust's I-Class accumulation units fell by 2.50%. FTSE, the Index compiler, calculates the benchmark Index at the end of the business day using closing prices, whereas the Trust is valued using prevailing prices at 12 noon. Therefore, for tracking purposes the Trust has been revalued using closing prices and adjusted for Trust charges and taxation. On this basis, over the review period, the Trust performance was -2.36%, compared with the Index performance of -2.34% (Source: Bloomberg), producing a tracking difference of -0.02%.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up.

Market Review

The global economic background has improved over the past twelve months, led by solid growth in the major developed economies, although recent indicators suggest there has been some loss of momentum, particularly in Europe. Despite a rise in commodity prices, with the oil price (Brent crude) recovering to $79 per barrel in May, its highest level since 2014, inflationary pressures worldwide have remained subdued by historical standards.

In the US, economic activity remains in good shape, underpinned by improving consumer and business sentiment, a strong labour market and a recovery in the energy sector. The Federal Reserve (Fed) sanctioned a gradual tightening of monetary policy, raising interest rates three times over the last twelve months. The Fed also began unwinding its asset purchase programme, known as quantitative easing (QE), in October. In December, Congress approved the Trump administration's tax reforms which include a cut in the main rate of corporation tax from 35% to 21%.

The Eurozone economy grew at its fastest pace for a decade in 2017 although there has been some loss of momentum in recent months with a slowdown in Germany and France, the region's two largest economies. The European Central Bank (ECB) announced it would reduce its monthly asset purchase programme with effect from 2018 but with inflation remaining subdued the ECB has signalled monetary policy will remain accommodative.

In the UK, the economy grew at its slowest pace for six years during the first quarter of 2018. The Bank of England voted to increase interest rates to 0.5% in November, removing the emergency support announced in August 2016 in the wake of the EU referendum.

Returns from bond markets have been disappointing over the last 12 months, although a marked rise in equity market volatility in early 2018 highlighted the 'safe haven' appeal of government bonds. In the US, investors have discounted Fed rate hikes and looser fiscal policy. In the UK, inflation peaked at over 3% in November and declined towards the Bank of England's (BoE) 2% target. As a result, index-linked gilts underperformed conventional securities. The Bank's decision to add high quality corporate bonds to its QE programme sparked an upsurge in new issuance in the Sterling-denominated market in 2017. Although the BoE has completed its purchases of corporate bonds, the asset class continued to attract investors, as yields on government bonds remained unattractively low. Returns from bond markets have generally been disappointing over the last 12 months. Since late 2016, longer-term interest rates in the major economies have moved higher, particularly in the US where investors discounted Fed rate hikes and looser fiscal policy. However, in the UK the sharp devaluation of Sterling following the EU referendum has fed through to inflation, which has accelerated above the Bank of England (BoE)'s 2% target to record a five-year high in recent months.

Trust Review

All investment activity was prompted either by unit holder investment or redemption or by changes in the profile of the benchmark.

There were 6 auctions and 1 syndication of index-linked securities during the period, which raised a total of £8.1 billion for government funding. The only bond tapped by syndication was the 0.125% Index-linked Treasury Gilt 2048 for £2.75 billion nominal in February 2018 and its subsequent tap for £750 million in April 2018. Each issuance resulted in a change to the constituent weightings of the benchmark Index and required the Trust to be rebalanced in line with the revised Index distribution.

The Trust experienced net negative cash flow during the period. The cash flows were used to adjust the Trust's holdings in such a way so as to ensure the Trust maintained an Index distribution at all times.

Outlook

Longer term, we retain a bias towards being long duration as we remain cautious about global growth and the ability of a highly-leveraged global economy to withstand higher interest rates. In the shorter term, however, we expect higher US and Eurozone core inflation to test the market's belief that inflationary pressure will be low for an extended period. These higher inflation expectations should push up interest rates. Versus the rest of the world, we still believe that Brexit negotiations will be a leading driver of relative performance during 2018. However, with parliament unlikely to have a meaningful vote until October, the potential for material news (in either direction) seems limited during the summer.

We expect headline inflation to still stay below 3% unless oil prices rise further.

F-Class	0.37%	0.37%
M-Class	–	0.15%
I-Class	0.15%	0.15%

The Trust's final accounting date, usually 26 November, was moved to 24 November 2017 in order to facilitate the closure of M-Class (See significant changes on pages 14 and 15).

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) is the ratio of the Trust's total disclosable costs (excluding overdraft interest) to the average net assets of the Trust.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a trust and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Distribution Information

As at 26 May 2018, the whole Trust was in a shortfall position, as the expenses of the Trust exceeded distributable revenue and as such there were no distributions.

Risk and Reward Profile

- This risk and reward profile is based on historical data which may not be a reliable indication of the Trust's risk and reward category in the future.
- The category number highlighted above reflects the rate at which the Trust's unit price has moved up and down in the past. If the Trust has less than five years' track record, the number also reflects the rate at which the Index the Trust tracks has moved up and down in the past. Higher numbers mean the potential reward could be greater, but this comes with increased risk of losing money.
- The Trust is in category five because it invests in company or government bonds which are sensitive to changes in interest rates, inflation and credit. This can be driven by political and economic changes and other significant events and may cause the value to go up and down. Bonds that are closer to their maturity date tend to be more stable in value. Bonds are generally considered to be higher risk investments than cash, but lower risk than company shares.
- The Trust's category is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time.
- Even a trust in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.
