Manager's Investment Report

Investment Objective and Policy

The objective of the Fund is to deliver long term capital growth which exceeds the Bank of England's base interest rate as set by the Monetary Policy Committee or successor bodies. Whilst the Fund aims to achieve capital growth above the Bank of England base rate over rolling three year periods, there is no guarantee that this will be achieved over that period or any other period and capital invested in the Fund is at risk.

The Fund will invest principally in a broad range of UK and overseas companies' shares, fixed interest securities and cash. The Fund will invest up to 35% in UK and overseas companies' shares. Exposure to these asset classes will be achieved generally through investment in collective investment schemes but may also be achieved by investing directly in the assets. At times the Fund may be fully invested in collective investment schemes only or directly invested only or invested in cash, near cash, money market instruments and deposits only.

The collective investment schemes invested in may include those managed or operated by Legal & General. The Fund may also invest in other transferable securities, other collective investment schemes, money market instruments, deposits, cash and near cash.

The Fund will use derivatives for Efficient Portfolio Management purposes only.

Manager's Investment Report

During the period under review, the mid price of the Fund's I-Class accumulation units fell by 0.83%. The Fund's peer group, the Investment Association Mixed Investment 0-35% Sector delivered a return of -1.63% (Source: Lipper Hindsight).

Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up.

Exchange rate changes may cause the value of any overseas investments to rise or fall.

Market/Economic Review

Concerns that the Federal Reserve was raising US interest rates too quickly, the risk of a prolonged government shutdown in the US, the ongoing US-China trade dispute and weaker global economic indicators all combined to trigger widespread risk aversion amongst investors during the period under review. Markets became increasingly volatile as 2018 ended, recording heavy losses before regaining some lost ground in January.

Global equity indices have performed poorly over the last six months. The healthcare sector outperformed, boosted by robust earnings growth. As global economic prospects became more uncertain, technology stocks struggled while the energy sector underperformed, as the oil price fell back to a 15-month low in December.

US equities recorded a loss over the review period. The market fell sharply in December as concerns about the impact of higher interest rates and the political impasse between the Trump administration and Congress combined to unsettle investors. Real estate, utilities and healthcare were the best performing sectors, while the energy, financials and communication services sectors were weakest.

UK equities underperformed global indices as uncertainty surrounding the outcome of Brexit negotiations preoccupied investors. Sterling weakened to a 20-month low against the US Dollar in December. Energy and industrials were amongst the weakest sectors, while it was also a disappointing period for retailers.

Returns from European equities have also been disappointing over the review period. Political concerns have resurfaced, most notably in Italy. This reawakened the debate on the future of the Eurozone. Renewed fears of contagion risk drove down financial stocks, notably banks.

Although concerns over US-China trade tensions and higher US interest rates weighed on global equities, emerging market equities demonstrated some element of resilience.

The major international bond markets outperformed equities, recording a modest gain for Sterling-based investors. Gilts ended the review period with a modest gain. Sterling-denominated corporate bonds underperformed gilts, impacted by concerns about the UK economic outlook and corporate profits, with the deadline for the conclusion of Brexit negotiations fast approaching.

Fund Review

The Fund produced a negative return over the review period.

The Fund's negative performance was largely driven by December's market falls. In particular, the Fund's allocation to UK and European equities, followed by high yield debt, damaged performance during this period. However, the Fund delivered a positive return in January, as markets rallied after the December lows. A significant part of the positive performance can be attributed to developed market equities improving their performance. Investment grade credit was also a large positive contributor.

Recently, the most significant change to the portfolio positioning was increasing UK equities across most of the funds, taking advantage of more attractive valuations after experiencing large falls in December. This was beneficial for Fund performance in January.

Outlook

Our view is that US fundamentals remain solid, but also, we see this period as the start of the twilight zone between expansion and a downturn marking the end of the cycle. Our research suggests that equity bull market rallies tend to end suddenly, so de-risking a few months too early can be as problematic as a few months too late. However, those hoping for a return to tranquility may be disappointed, and we believe this is an environment where a point forecast for equities at the end of the year is increasingly difficult to pin down. As such, at this stage we'll tend to lean against strong investor sentiment in either direction.

The recent dovish shift (low interest rates) from the US Federal Reserve seems to have given equity markets the leg-up they needed, and in the broader setting it may mean we are further from the end of the economic cycle than we previously thought. In this context, we continue to hold our neutral position in risk assets, currently preferring European and Japanese to broad US stocks, while also favouring the technology and US energy sectors. We expect continued pressure on credit markets. However, consistent with our constructive outlook for emerging market fundamentals; emerging market debt (both hard and local currency) looks increasingly interesting.

One important concern is the potential for a persistent change in the relationship between equities and bonds. Bonds' shock-absorbing capacity could disappear when an inflationary mind-set takes hold. We also think we may continue to see pressure on the Euro as Brexit negotiations go to the wire, and lackluster growth appears to weaken further as Italy has tipped into recession.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a fund and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Risk and Reward Profile

- The Risk and Reward Indicator table demonstrates where the Fund ranks in terms of its potential risk and reward. The higher the rank the greater the potential reward but the greater the risk of losing money. It is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time. It is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The shaded area in the table above shows the Fund's ranking on the Risk and Reward Indicator.
- The Fund is in category three because the mix of different asset types in which the Fund invests has a balancing effect on the rate at which the Fund share price moves up and down. This type of fund is generally considered to be higher risk than one investing only in bonds and lower risk than one existing only in company shares.
- Even a fund in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.
