

Legal & General Global 100 Index Trust
Interim Manager's
Short Report
for the period ended
15 June 2018

EVERY DAY
MATTERS.®

Investment Objective and Policy

The investment objective of this Trust is to track the capital performance of the S&P Global 100 Index. Securities in the S&P Global 100 Index will be held with weightings generally proportionate to their company's market capitalisation.

From time to time non-Index constituents may be held as a result of a corporate action and these holdings will be sold or transferred as soon as reasonably practical.

Risk Profile

Market Risk

Market risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices. It represents the potential loss the Trust may suffer through holding market positions in the face of market movements. The Manager adheres to the investment guidelines and in this way, monitors and controls the exposure to risk from any type of security, sector or issuer.

Currency Risk

This Trust is invested in overseas financial securities. The performance of the Trust may therefore be affected by changes in exchange rates. This risk may be managed by the use of forward currency contracts, which aim to manage the effect of changing exchange rates.

Trust Facts

Period End Dates for Distributions:	15 Jun, 15 Dec
Distribution Dates:	15 Aug, 15 Feb
Ongoing Charges Figures:	15 Jun 18	15 Dec 17
R-Class	0.67%	0.99%
F-Class	0.38%	0.38%
I-Class	0.14%	0.14%
C-Class	0.09%	0.09%

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) is the ratio of the Trust's total discloseable costs (excluding overdraft interest) to the average net assets of the Trust.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a trust and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Risk and Reward Profile

- This risk and reward profile is based on historical data which may not be a reliable indication of the Trust's risk and reward category in the future.
- The category number highlighted above reflects the rate at which the Trust's unit price has moved up and down in the past. If the Trust has less than five years' track record, the number also reflects the rate at which the Index the Trust tracks has moved up and down in the past. Higher numbers mean the potential reward could be greater, but this comes with increased risk of losing money.
- The Trust is in category five because it invests in company shares which are sensitive to variations in the stock market. The value of company shares can change substantially over short periods of time. Company shares are generally considered to be higher risk investments than bonds or cash.
- The Trust's category is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time.
- Even a trust in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.

Manager's Investment Report

During the six months under review, the bid price of the Trust's R-Class distribution units increased by 2.38%. Standard & Poor's (S&P), the Index compiler, calculates the benchmark Index at the end of the business day using closing prices, whereas the Trust is valued using prevailing prices at 3pm. Therefore, for tracking purposes, the Trust has been revalued using closing prices and foreign exchange rates. On this basis, over the review period, the Trust rose by 1.17% on a capital only basis, compared with the S&P 100 Index increase of 1.18% (Source: Bloomberg), producing a tracking difference of -0.01%.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up.

Exchange rate changes may cause the value of any overseas investments to rise or fall.

Market/Economic Review

Global equity indices gained ground over the period. Although markets closed 2017 on a strong note, reflecting a steady improvement in global economic indicators and corporate earnings growth, selling pressures subsequently emerged. Market volatility rose markedly during the first quarter of 2018, particularly as trade tensions between the US and China escalated. However, a favourable economic background and encouraging first quarter earnings enabled markets to end the period on a firmer footing. Energy stocks performed well as the oil price reached $79 per barrel in May, its highest level since 2014. Consumer discretionary stocks also performed well, boosted by encouraging earnings announcements. Consumer staples and utilities were amongst the weakest sectors; these sectors tend to underperform when investors are more optimistic about the economic outlook and earnings growth prospects.

US equities recorded a new all-time high in January, boosted by Congressional approval for the Trump administration's tax reforms which included a substantial cut in corporation tax. However, there was a marked rise in volatility during February and March. Initially, investors focused on inflationary pressures and the risk that the Federal Reserve may accelerate monetary tightening. Subsequently, the Trump administration's decision to impose tariffs on imported goods, particularly from China, raised concerns over retaliatory measures and a prolonged trade dispute. Nevertheless, the first quarter reporting season has highlighted strong earnings momentum, with analysts making upward revisions to their expectations for 2018, enabling the market to recover lost ground.

Despite closing 2017 on a positive note, UK equities faltered during the first quarter of 2018 recording three consecutive months of losses before rallying in April and May. Sterling's strength, with the currency reaching its highest level since the 2016 referendum (surpassing $1.40 at the end of January), has caused a headwind for companies and sectors with high international earnings, notably food & beverages. Although the Bank of England indicated interest rates may need to be increased as soon as May, the economy grew at its slowest pace for six years during the first quarter putting paid to the prospect of an imminent rate hike. The resources sectors have performed well, while autos were boosted by a hostile takeover bid from Melrose Industries for component supplier GKN, which eventually received shareholder approval.

Returns from European equities have been disappointing, underperforming broader global stock markets over the period. In recent months political concerns have resurfaced, most notably in Italy. The Italian President vetoed the appointment of a Eurosceptic finance minister, highlighting concerns that the coalition government, made up of the populist Five Star Movement and the Northern League, is on a collision course with the European Union. Subsequently, a new government was finally installed, ending weeks of deadlock. In Spain, the Socialist-led opposition succeeded in ousting Prime Minister Rajoy in the wake of a corruption scandal enveloping the ruling Popular Party. As a result, renewed fears of a sovereign debt crisis in southern Europe drove down financial stocks, notably banks. Although the Eurozone economy grew at its fastest pace for a decade in 2017, there has been some loss of momentum in recent months with a slowdown in Germany and France – the region's two largest economies.

Trust Activity

Companies held within the Trust are held with weightings generally proportionate to those of the benchmark Index. Therefore, investment activity, other than to raise or invest cash, is only necessary when there are changes to the benchmark Index, or as a result of a corporate action.

The March 2017 quarterly Index review resulted in no addition or deletion. There were 39 changes to the free share capital of constituents, with the largest increases being Royal Dutch Shell 'A' (GB), Amazon.com (US) and American Tower (US). The largest decreases were for Apple (US), Citigroup (US) and Johnson & Johnson (US). Two-way Index turnover was 0.86%

The June 2018 review resulted in no additions and no deletions. There were 35 changes to the free share capital of constituents; with the largest increases being Amazon.com (US), Total S.A. (FR) and Ford Motor (US). The largest decreases were Apple (US), Novartis (CH) and Intel (US). Two-way index turnover was 1.3%.

Outside the reviews, Bayer (DE) increased its capital via a rights issue worth EUR 6 billion.

At the end of the period the Trust had holdings in all 102 companies in the Index. The three largest stocks in the Index at the end of the period were Apple (7.9%), Microsoft (6.4%) and Amazon.com (5.7%). The three largest countries in the Index at the end of the period were the United States (63.5%), the United Kingdom (10.5%) and Germany (5.5%).

Outlook

The key driver of equity prices in the coming months is likely to be the ebb and flow of trade discussions. Regarding the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), the base case remains that an agreement will be reached, which should be positive for equity markets.

The outlook for equities remains neutral as, although we are late cycle, the chance of recession remains low. In addition, the fiscal stimulus (Trump's tax reform) continues to provide a tailwind to US growth which, although inflationary in the long run, is likely to be beneficial for equities over the short to medium term.

Information on Tracking Error

The 'Tracking Error' of a Trust is the measure of the volatility of the differences between the return of the Trust and the return of the benchmark Index. It provides an indication of how closely the Trust is tracking the performance of the benchmark Index after considering things such as Trust charges and taxation.

Using monthly returns, over the review period, the annualised Tracking Error of the Trust is 0.19%, whilst over the last three years to the end of June 2018, the annualised Tracking Error of the Trust is 0.29%. These Tracking Errors are within the anticipated Tracking Error levels set out in the Trust's Prospectus of +/-0.75% per annum.

Dual Pricing Arrangement

The Manager's fixed dual pricing arrangement has a set spread to account for the costs of transacting in a particular Trust. Where the Manager operates a box through which unit subscriptions and unit redemptions are netted into a single trade instruction to the Trustee, the netting reduces the actual transaction costs and this generates a revenue to the Manager. The revenue generated from this activity is calculated on a monthly basis and returned to the Trust in the form of a payment from the Manager. This provides an enhanced return to the Trust, through the size of any return will be dependent on the size of subscriptions and redemptions.

Minimum Investment Amounts

The minimum initial lump sum investment amounts for each class are as follows:

R-Class	£100
F-Class	£500
I-Class	£1,000,000
C-Class	£100,000,000

In addition, monthly contributions can be made into the R-Class with a minimum amount of £20 per month and with a minimum amount of £50 per month into the F-Class.

F-Class units are only available to:

- i) investors who have received advice from authorised intermediaries, platforms or other distributors in relation to their investment in units in the Trust and
- ii) distributors who the Manager reasonably considers will adequately bear the costs of marketing to and acquiring investors at no or limited cost to the Manager, and to whom the Manager has confirmed that such distributor or investor meets the criteria for investment in such units.

C-Class units are only available to distributors who actively market and distribute such units (or whom the Manager believes intends to do so) and to whom the Manager has confirmed by letter that they meet the criteria for investment in such units.
