

Legal & General
Mixed Investment 20-60% Fund
Interim Manager's Short Report
for the period ended
31 January 2019

Investment Objective and Policy

This objective of the Fund is to provide long term growth of both capital and income. The Fund will invest in shares, fixed interest securities and other assets including those giving indirect exposure to commodities and real property. Between 20% and 60% of the Fund's property will be invested in shares.

Exposure to these asset classes will be achieved generally through investment in collective investment schemes but may also be achieved by investing directly in the assets. At times the Fund may be fully invested in collective investment schemes only or directly invested only. The collective investment schemes invested in may include those managed by Legal & General.

The Fund may also invest in other transferable securities, other collective investment schemes, money market instruments, deposits, cash or near cash.

The Fund will use derivatives for Efficient Portfolio Management purposes.

Risk Profile

Credit risk

This Fund holds investments in government bonds and in Collective Investment Schemes which directly invest in financial securities such as bonds. With these investments, there is a risk of suffering loss due to a party not meeting its financial obligations.

Market risk

Market risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices. It represents the potential loss the Fund may suffer through holding market positions in the face of market movements. The Manager adheres to the investment guidelines and in this way, monitors and controls the exposure to risk from any type of security, sector or issuer.

Currency risk

This Fund holds overseas financial securities and Collective Investment Schemes that invest in overseas financial securities. The performance of the Fund may therefore be affected by changes in exchange rates. This risk is managed by the use of foreign currency futures, which aim to manage the effect of changing exchange rates.

Interest rate risk

This Fund is invested in interest bearing securities and holds interest distributing funds. The performance of the Fund may therefore be affected by changes in interest rates. The active monitoring and adjustment of the investments in the portfolio manages this risk.

Fund Facts

Distribution Dates:	31 Mar, 30 Sep
Ongoing Charges Figures:	31 Jan 19	31 Jul 18
F-Class	0.55%	0.55%
I-Class	0.46%	0.46%
C-Class	0.31%	0.31%
D-Class	0.95%	0.95%

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) is the ratio of the Fund's total disclosable costs (excluding overdraft interest) and all costs suffered through holdings in underlying Collective Investment Schemes, to the average net assets of the Fund.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a fund and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Risk and Reward Profile

- This Risk and Reward Indicator table demonstrates where the Fund ranks in terms of its potential risk and reward. The higher the rank the greater the potential reward but the greater the risk of losing money. It is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time. It is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The shaded area in the table above shows the Fund's ranking on the Risk and Reward Indicator.
- This Fund is in category four because the mix of different asset types in which the Fund invests has a balancing effect on the rate at which the Fund share price moves up and down. This type of fund is generally considered to be higher risk than one investing only in bonds and lower risk than one investing only in company shares.
- Even a fund in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.

Market/Economic Review

Concerns that the Federal Reserve was raising US interest rates too quickly, the risk of a prolonged government shutdown in the US, the ongoing US-China trade dispute and weaker global economic indicators all combined to trigger widespread risk aversion amongst investors during the period under review. Markets became increasingly volatile as 2018 ended, recording heavy losses before regaining some lost ground in January.

Global equity indices have performed poorly over the last six months. The healthcare sector outperformed, boosted by robust earnings growth. As global economic prospects became more uncertain, technology stocks struggled while the energy sector underperformed as the oil price fell back to a 15-month low in December.

US equities recorded a loss over the period. The market fell sharply in December as concerns about the impact of higher interest rates and the political impasse between the Trump administration and Congress combined to unsettle investors. Real estate, utilities and healthcare were the best performing sectors, while the energy, financials and communication services sectors were weakest.

UK equities underperformed global indices as uncertainty surrounding the outcome of Brexit negotiations preoccupied investors. Sterling weakened to a 20-month low against the US Dollar in December. Energy and industrials were amongst the weakest sectors, while it was also a disappointing period for retailers.

Returns from European equities have also been disappointing over the period. Political concerns have resurfaced, most notably in Italy. This reawakened the debate on the future of the Eurozone. Renewed fears of contagion risk drove down financial stocks, notably banks.

Although concerns over US-China trade tensions and higher US interest rates weighed on global equities, emerging market equities demonstrated some element of resilience. In regional terms, Latin American equities outperformed.

The major international bond markets outperformed equities, recording a modest gain for Sterling-based investors. Gilts ended the period with a modest gain. Sterling-denominated corporate bonds underperformed gilts, impacted by concerns about the UK economic outlook and corporate profits, with the deadline for the conclusion of Brexit negotiations fast approaching.

Fund Review

The Fund produced a negative return over the review period.

The Fund's negative performance was largely driven by December's market falls. In particular, the Fund's allocation to UK and European equities damaged performance during this period, followed by high yield debt. However, the Fund delivered a positive return in January, as markets rallied after the December lows. A significant part of the positive performance can be attributed to developed market equities improving their performance the most after last quarter. Investment grade credit was also a positive contributor.

Recently, the most significant change to the portfolio positioning was increasing UK equities across most of the funds, taking advantage of more attractive valuations after experiencing large falls in December. This was beneficial for Fund performance in January.

Meanwhile, we closed the European utilities position in the funds, after strong performance on an absolute and relative basis against European equities. Similarly, we closed the Australian sovereign bond position, partially replacing it with US treasuries.

Outlook

Our view is that US fundamentals remain solid, but also, we see this year as the start of the twilight zone between expansion and a downturn marking the end of the cycle.

Our research suggests that equity bull market rallies tend to end suddenly, so de-risking a few months too early can be as problematic as a few months too late. However, those hoping for a return to tranquillity may be disappointed, and we believe this is an environment where a point forecast for equities at the end of the year is increasingly difficult to pin down. As such, at this stage we'll tend to lean against strong investor sentiment in either direction.

The recent dovish shift from the US Federal Reserve seems to have given equity markets the leg-up they needed, and in the broader setting it may mean we are further from the end of the economic cycle than we previously thought. In this context, we continue to hold our neutral position in risk assets, currently preferring European and Japanese stocks to broad US stocks, while also favouring the technology and US energy sectors. We expect continued pressure on credit markets. However, consistent with our constructive outlook for emerging market fundamentals; emerging market debt (both hard and local currency) looks increasingly interesting.

One important concern is the potential for a persistent change in the relationship between equities and bonds. Bonds' shock-absorbing capacity could disappear when an inflationary mind-set takes hold. We also think we may continue to see pressure on the Euro as Brexit negotiations go to the wire, and lacklustre growth appears to weaken further as Italy has tipped into recession.

Minimum Investment Amounts

The minimum initial lump sum investment amounts for each class are as follows:

F-Class	£20
I-Class	£1,000,000
C-Class	£100,000,000
D-Class	£100

Class F units are available to:

- i) investors who have received advice from authorised intermediaries, platforms or other distributors in relation to their investment in units in the Fund; and
- ii) distributors who the Manager reasonably considers will adequately bear the costs of marketing to and acquiring investors at no or limited cost to the Manager, and to whom the Manager has confirmed that such distributor or investor meets the criteria for investment in such units.

Class C units are available to certain eligible investors who meet the criteria for investment in such units as outlined in the share class policy of the Manager, which is available to investors in the C-Class upon request. Where investors in the C-Class no longer continue to meet the criteria for investment in such units, further investment in such units may not be permitted.
