Legal & General

Hove

PLEASE NOTE

Regular employer contributions will usually be invested using your existing investment instructions unless you tell us otherwise. In some circumstances we may need to contact you.

If you're taking full income drawdown from your plan we will not be able to receive further contributions into your plan.

We do not permit any of our individual pensions to be certified as a Qualifying Workplace Pension Scheme. This means that your plan is unsuitable for auto-enrolment.

The Annual Allowance for the 2019/2020 tax year is £40,000. If the total gross contributions paid by you, your employer or a third party, into any UK Registered Pension Scheme you've taken out are over the Annual Allowance, you may be subject to a tax charge. If you're also in a final salary pension scheme (defined benefit), your gross contributions for that scheme will be based on the increase in the value of your benefits during the tax year.

A Money Purchase Annual Allowance (£4,000 gross for the 2019/2020 tax year) will apply each tax year once you take money directly out of any money purchase (defined contribution) pension pot you have, unless you only take your tax-free cash lump sum, take all of your pension pot under the small pension pot rules, or continue taking Capped Income Drawdown. Not all of these options will be available from every pension pot.

Your Annual Allowance may also be reduced if your income (including the value of any pension contributions) is over £150,000 and your income (excluding the value of any pension contributions) is over £110,000.

The Annual Allowance will not apply in the tax year in which you die or if you access your pension pot because of serious ill health.

3EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS BY SALARY DEDUCTION (IF APPLICABLE)

a) Amount deducted from your employee's pay £ Net monthly/yearly¹ and paid to us by Direct Debit

The net amount is the amount the employee wants to pay. Their contract is for the gross contribution, which is the amount stated plus basic rate tax relief (at the rate applicable when the first regular contribution is paid at this level). Tax relief is not available for contributions once the employee reaches age 75. If basic rate tax relief changes, or the employee reaches age 75, the amount we collect by Direct Debit will therefore change and you will need to change the amount you deduct from your employee's salary.

b) At what rate should the amount collected by Direct Debit be automatically increased each year?
(You may only choose ONE of the options.)

None In line with the Retail Prices Index² In line with the annual increase in Average Weekly Earnings²

By a fixed percentage each year of % (only whole numbers up to 10% inclusive allowed)

² Contributions will only increase in line with the index/factor. If there is a decrease in the index/factor then the contributions will remain the same.

Indexation of employee and employer contributions is not available or is limited on some of our plans. If you select this option and this is not available on the plan, we will contact you.

If your employee's contributions are to be automatically increased each year then the amount we collect by Direct Debit will automatically increase. You will need to change the amount you deduct from the employee's salary in line with this.

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS INCLUDING SALARY SACRIFICE (IF APPLICABLE)

a) I wish to make a gross contribution to the employee's pension plan administered by Legal & General as detailed in Part 1.

The above contribution(s) will be invested in accordance with instructions given by the Member.

b) At what rate would you like your employer regular contributions to your employee's plan to be automatically increased by each year? (You may only choose ONE of the options.)

None In line with the Retail Prices Index² In line with the annual increase in Average Weekly Earnings²

By a fixed percentage each year of % (only whole numbers up to 10% inclusive allowed)

This option is only available for regular contributions paid by Direct Debit. Employer contributions can be automatically increased differently from employee contributions.

² Contributions will only increase in line with the index/factor. If there is a decrease in the index/factor then the contributions will remain the same.

Indexation of employee and employer contributions is not available or is limited on some of our plans. If you select this option and this is not available on the plan, we will contact you.

PAYMENT DUE DATE

You are required by law to pay contributions to your employee's pension plan by the 'payment due date'. We, as the personal pension provider, are required to report any employer who does not do this to the Pensions Regulator who may then fine the employer. If we do not report employers that do not pay or pay late we will be liable to penalties.

You will become a late or non-payer if your contributions have not been received by Legal & General on the 19th of the month following the month on which you were due to pay it to us. This is known as the 'payment due date'. For example, contributions due to Legal & General on 5 May must be received no later than 19 June.

If you are deducting contributions from employee's pay you will become a late or non-payer if this contribution is not received by us on the 19th of the month following the deduction from pay.

The Pensions Regulator also requires you to provide us with a Record of Payments to ensure that we know when to expect payments from you. This form will become the Record of Payments for this purpose. If you alter your payment you must complete a new form.
