i You should complete this section if you wish to nominate a beneficiary or set up a trust, or if you wish to change your current nomination. By completing this section you will replace any previous nomination you have made.

i If you are over 18 when you die, the way benefits can be paid will depend on a number of factors.

Legal & General will pay any death benefits at its discretion taking into account the range of potential beneficiaries as detailed in your Member’s Policy Booklet.

If you make a nomination, Legal & General will not be bound by this form but will take this into account when deciding who to pay the benefit to.

Under current rules, if you die before age 75, any benefits paid to your beneficiaries will normally be tax free, although the value of your pension pot will be tested against your remaining Lifetime Allowance which could result in a tax charge.

If you’re aged 75 or over when you die, any benefits paid to your beneficiaries will be taxed in the same way as earned income and there is no Lifetime Allowance test.

In some circumstances there could be an additional inheritance tax liability.

- Other companies within the Legal & General group, third-party suppliers, contractors and service providers for the purposes listed under HOW DO WE USE YOUR INFORMATION? above.
- Selected third parties, so that they can contact you with details of the services that they provide, where you have expressly opted-in or consented to the disclosure of your personal data for these purposes.
- Our regulators, government (e.g. HMRC) and law enforcement or fraud prevention agencies, reassurers, as well as our professional advisers etc. You can find an up to date list of reassurers on our website: legalandgeneral.com/privacy-policy/consent-controllers

Additionally, we may disclose your personal information to third parties:

- In the event that we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we’ll disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets.
- If we, or substantially all of our assets, are acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by us about our customers will be one of the transferred assets.
- If you have been dealing with a financial adviser, we’ll provide information about your product and, where appropriate, with other information about your dealings with us, to enable the adviser to give you informed advice.

- In order to enforce or apply the terms of any contract with you.
- If we’re under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation or regulatory requirements, or otherwise for the prevention or detection of fraud or crime.
- To protect you and us from financial crime, we may be required to verify the identity of new and sometimes existing customers. This may be achieved by using reference agencies to search sources of information relating to you (an identity search). This will not affect your credit rating. If this fails, we may need to approach you to obtain documentary evidence of identity.
- If you make a claim, we’ll share your information (where necessary) with other insurance companies to prevent fraudulent claims.
- If applicable, Legal & General Surveying Services may use a third party surveyor to carry out the survey or valuation of your property.

Additionally, your information, including special category and criminal conviction data, may be disclosed to our reassurer and to any other insurance company to whom you apply for products or services.

If you’ve been introduced to us by another company (such as a bank, insurer or building society), we may share your information with them to enable them to:

- Carry out market research, statistical analysis and customer profiling.
- Where you have consented, send you marketing information by post, telephone, e-mail and SMS about their products and those of carefully selected third parties.
- Assist you with your application process (aggregator and price comparison websites only).
